Final Wednesday

Q: What is Final Wednesday?A: Final Wednesday is an evening of fellowship and fun.Q: When is Final Wednesday?A: Most often on the final Wednesday of each month. Some months may be the week before depending on conflicts.Q: Is Final Wednesday only for families of young children?A: Absolutely NOT! We want all members of Trinity to attend whether you are 1, 50, or 95! If you have zero kids or 10 kids. If you have grandchildren or even want to bring a guest. All are welcome!Q: Is it only for KICKS families.A: Nope, some events will be during Kicks and some will not.Q: Will Final Wednesday always be held at the church?A: Not at all. We have held events at the Zoo, at a church member's house, and also at the fellowship hall.

Rejoice always, pray without ceasing, give thanks in all circumstances; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus for you.

—1 Thessalonians 5:16-18

Way back, in the times of old...ok, maybe not so old, at least not for a lot of us, but back in 1972, Robert Coleman put out a book called 'Written In Blood.' In one section of the book, he tells the story of a little boy whose sister needed a blood transfusion. The doctor explained that she had the same disease the boy had recovered from two years earlier. Her only chance for recovery was a transfusion from someone who had previously conquered the disease. Since the two children had the same rare blood type, the boy was the ideal donor.

"Would you give your blood to Mary?" the doctor asked. Johnny hesitated. His lower lip started to tremble. Then he smiled and said, "Sure, for my sister." Soon the two children were wheeled into the hospital room—Mary, pale and thin; Johnny, robust and healthy. Neither spoke, but when their eyes met, Johnny grinned. As the nurse inserted the needle into his arm, Johnny's smile faded. He watched the blood flow through the tube. With the ordeal almost over, his voice, slightly shaky, broke the silence. "Doctor, when do I die?"

Only then did the doctor realize why Johnny had hesitated, why his lip had trembled when he'd agreed to donate his blood. He thought giving his blood to his sister meant giving up his life. In that brief moment, he'd made his great decision.

Now that's a great story about a brother's love for his sister, but what would that have to do with the that Bible verse at the beginning? After all, Paul seems to be talking about something we can relate to at this time of year; just mention the month of November, and the first thing most people think about is Thanksgiving. That fits, doesn't it? During our Thanksgiving holiday there seems to be a lot of rejoicing and giving thanks not only to God in prayer, but to family and friends who make this time of year that much more special. And if that is God's will, then by golly let's get on with it!

But there's still that story about the little boy. When you stop and think about it, I'm pretty sure that at the end of it all, he was not only rejoicing that his sister would recover and quite thankful that he would be there to see it happen. I also believe that the boy's parents were also rejoicing and thankful for both of their children; their daughter for the new life given to her and their son who was willing to give her that life even if it meant giving up his own.

When we look at our own lives, we can see the sacrifices that make life possible; the ones we do for others and the ones others do for us. And believe it or not, along with the sacrifice comes prayer, rejoicing and thanksgiving. But then, isn't that what people who love one another do? And I'm not talking about headline making sacrifices, but the little everyday ones that people make—donating to charity, giving blood, donating bone marrow, volunteering precious time. All of it involves prayer for direction, rejoicing in being able to serve, and thanksgiving for God's call to love our neighbors as ourselves.

Yes, we are thankful for all of God's blessings to us, but we are even more thankful when God gives us the opportunity to be a blessing to others—even when it calls for a little sacrifice on our parts.

As we gather with friends and family, or even total strangers that we are called to serve; whether it's at Thanksgiving, Christmas or any other time of the year, remember Paul's advice and rejoice in what God has blessed you with, pray constantly for God to lead, uplift and sustain you in all things; and of course, give thanks for the sacrifice that made it possible for us to become children of God.

Diana and I wish you all a blessed Fall season and may all your days be filled with thanksgiving.

Pastor Jay

From the Council

The congregational meeting was held October 19th and the annual report was reviewed. Jeremy Kennedy was elected Vice-President and the previous council members all agreed to stay on in their current positions. Pastor Jay gave an update with his treatments and his tumors have shrunken significantly, we continue to pray for his healing. He has been driving back and forth between Omaha and Great Bend when he is able. His sermons both in person and via video are very well received. He did tell the congregation that they are putting their house up for sale as he is considering early retirement. We will continue to support him and his family as we can.

Mrs. Buzz (CliffAnn) Birney was the guest speaker this weekend and we were given an update on their missions and goals of their organization, Live Like Jesus Today. They seem to have accomplished much and continue to have lofty goals. They are aiding college students and helping women and children in need while spreading the gospel.

The church's financial condition appears to remain stable through 2026 though Robert Lanterman noted that 2027 may have challenges with building insurance and utilities. Our agent noted that there is talk in insurance circles of some commercial/church/ other types of roofs becoming uninsurable. This is just speculation but I suspect that if we continue with large destructive hail storms in our area then that could become reality. Operation is well aware of that possibility and will plan accordingly.

Finally, Pastor felt that we should go ahead and form a call team in the event that he either retires or cannot continue his duties. Those types of committees require a lot of work but I am hopeful that we can find members who want to assist with the search.

A fellowship meal was served after the meeting and I would encourage members to attend. Even if you do not want to bring a dish or forgot to make one please attend anyway. It is a good way to get to know your fellow members. I have been a very nice experience for me and my wife.

Be a Voice for Our Congregation

As I traveled to the LCMC Annual Convention, my main focus was on our youth how we can better disciple them, guide them, and help them grow in faith. But as I listened to keynotes and joined group discussions, I realized my takeaway was much broader. To truly impact our youth, we must also impact our entire congregation. We are one body, united in our mission for Christ.

Moving forward, each of us needs to take a close look at our church and ask: What needs to change for us to grow and thrive?

Change is never easy. It can be uncomfortable, and sometimes even painful. But if we want to see Trinity Lutheran Church continue to grow and live out its mission, we have to be willing to make those hard choices, not for convenience, but for what is best.

So I invite you to reflect and pray with me:

What things in our church are not helping us thrive?

Where might God be calling us to step out in faith, to change, and to grow?

Let's have the honest conversations, face the challenges together, and trust that God will lead us forward.

Trinity Ladies Fellowship

Rebecca Circle

Rebecca Circle met on Monday, October 20th with six ladies present. Ruth led our Bible Study. We started a new 9-week series, Walking by faith, Not by Sight. It focuses on the nature of the Christian life here in the world. We learned about faith and sight in the midst of struggle. During the business meeting we discussed spending some of our mission money to support the girls' home being prepared by Live Like Jesus Today Ministries. We agreed this would be a good way to support women and children in our community. Following our meeting we enjoyed cake and coffee provided by our hostesses, Lydia Kaufman and Kay Melton.

Friendship Circle

The Friendship Circle met October 15th with ten ladies present. Judi Brack Johnson opened the meeting with a prayer. The items from TLF Council were discussed and those present were reminded to have some mission names to which monies can be donated by the end of the year. Krista Smith gave the lesson and Jana Reed was the hostess for the meeting. The next meeting will be November 19th in the church library. Marty Schloemer will be hostess and Carla Maneth will present the lesson. All Trinity ladies and their friends are welcome to attend the Circle meetings which are held in the church library at 9:30 AM on the third Wednesday of the month.

As they prepare to embark on a new journey by opening a home for women and children in need of a safe place. This home will be a place of refuge and restoration—where women can learn valuable life skills, hear the message of the Gospel, and be equipped with a healthy mindset to return to the world as confident believers in Christ. As they prepare to open their doors, there are still several items needed to help furnish and support this space. We are excited to partner with them in Christ and we invite you to be a part of this meaningful effort by donating needed items.

A list of needed items is included below and will also be available on the tree in the Gathering Area. Please bring all donated items back to the church by December 1st.

Supplies Needed:

Sheet rock	Pot set	Blender
Can opener	Kitchen utensils	Teapot
Full-size sheet sets	Pillows	$25 & $50 Walmart Gift Card
Diapers and wipes	Cribs

This home is just one part of the broad impact Live Like Jesus Today is having. Their ministry also includes:

- Weekly Bible studies for people of all ages
- The Kingdom Closet, where those in need can find clothing and other essentials
- Prison ministry
- Outreach to the homeless, offering shelter during extreme conditions and housing when possible
- Monthly service trips to Wichita to support the homeless and needy
- Annual mission trips outside the U.S.

If you're interested in getting involved with any of these efforts, please don't hesitate to reach out to Buzz or CliffAnn.

The biggest impact we can have in our own community, is to be united in the mission of Christ. So, let's come together and be the hands and feet of Jesus in our community!

As the leaves begin to change and the air turns crisp, our youth are embracing a season of growth, gratitude, and connection. Fall is a wonderful time to pause, reflect, and rediscover how God is moving in our lives, and we are working to show our children just that!

This month at KICKS, we're transitioning into a season of reflection and gratitude as we explore what Thanksgiving and Advent mean to us. Each age group will be engaging with lessons designed to help them understand these seasons more deeply and see how they connect to their everyday lives. Our Confirmation students are continuing their journey of faith through the Alpha Teen Project, where they're learning what it means to build a strong foundation in Christ—even when life gets busy or uncertain. Each lesson connects real-world experiences with scripture and faith, helping students see how God's truth speaks into the world around them today.

We've also been having some fun! With fall activities and our upcoming Final Wednesday, there have been plenty of opportunities for fellowship and laughter. It's been a joy watching friendships strengthen and faith come alive.

As we look ahead, please keep our youth in your prayers, that they would continue to seek God's presence, support one another, and live out their faith boldly in their schools and communities.

Thank you, church family, for your continued encouragement, snacks, and prayers. This season reminds us that growth takes time, and we're grateful to see how God is at work in the hearts of our children!

Coffee Fellowship

Every Sunday at 10:00 AM we gather in the Gathering Area for coffee, treats, and fellowship. We'd love for you to join us each week—it's a wonderful way to connect with one another before worship!

If you would like to provide treats on a Sunday, please contact Harlen Jerke. Donations are also welcome to help support this time of fellowship.

Come for the coffee, stay for the fellowship!
