October Mission Month

We are excited to celebrate Mission Month with several special events throughout October:

- October 4th & 5th – We welcome Dan Cooper from Oaks Indian Mission, who will be sharing about the incredible work being done at Oaks.
- October 11th & 12th – Join us for our Blessing of the Quilts weekend as we honor the faithful work of the ladies of our church who provide blankets each year to those in need.
- October 18th & 19th – We will hear from Buzz & CliffAnn Birney with Live Like Jesus Today Ministries, as they share about the new and exciting ways God is working right here in our community.

Final Wednesday

Join us on Wednesday, October 29th, for the Final Wednesday Fellowship Night!

We'll gather in the fellowship hall at 5:30 p.m. for a Chili Cook-Off and Pumpkin Fun.

Think your chili is the best? We'd love for you to be one of our chefs! Sign up in the gathering area of the sanctuary to enter your famous recipe and let everyone have a taste.

This event is open to all—members of all ages—so come on down for a fun evening of food and fellowship!

For “everyone who calls on the name of the Lord will be saved.” How then will they call on him in whom they have not believed? And how are they to believe in him of whom they have never heard? And how are they to hear without someone preaching? And how are they to preach unless they are sent? As it is written, “How beautiful are the feet of those who preach the good news!” (Romans 10:13-15)

It’s October and while it may or may not seem obvious, Fall is here. Some of the changes are subtle, while others are pretty much inescapable. But I’m not just talking about the weather.

October also brings about other thoughts about change and doing something different; especially as we look toward the end of the month to that day when we celebrate that something different was happening in the Church—Reformation Sunday.

But not many people remember a critical time in the reformation when faithful people took their stand on the freedom that comes in and through the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ alone. They were willing to die for it because there was nothing more important in this life than the proclamation of salvation by grace through faith in Jesus alone.

On June 25, 1530, Martin Luther, Philip Melancthon, and German leaders of the Church put their lives at risk so that the Gospel of Jesus would be heard loud and clear. For them, it was a message that was too important to remain silent and certainly too important to compromise. For them, it was time to confess, to proclaim the truth of Jesus’ Good News and then, await their fate.

How important was this message to them? Perhaps the best example came from one of these leaders as he said to Charles V, Holy Roman Emperor, “Before I would deny my God and His Gospel, I would rather kneel down before your Imperial Emperor and let you cut off my head.”

So just what was this message that they considered important enough to risk their lives? The Augsburg Confessions. And if you’re not familiar with this particular document, this was an explanation of their beliefs. But not just what they believed in, but also why they believed it.

So, when was the last time you made a confession? And I don’t mean what we do on Sunday mornings when we confess our sins “in the presence of God, and of one another.” In this case, confession is a statement of belief like when we “confess our faith” using either the Apostle’s, Nicene or Athanasian Creed. So what I’m asking is when was the last time you talked to someone about what you truly believe when it comes to God? Now you may have to think about that for a moment or two because, let’s be honest, that’s something we don’t tend to do. Other people probably have a pretty good idea what we believe about music, food, various hobbies, and especially politics; but they would be hard pressed to really know what we think, believe or even feel about God. Yes, we tend to be more open about it when we’re in the safety of the church building or even among other members of our congregations if we happen to be together somewhere else; but if someone from outside of our “group” happens to be there, we all too often become silent on the matter.

So why did they do it? Why did those who presented the Augsburg Confession dare to take a stand and do something different? They did it because they knew and believed that others needed to hear this Good News for their very lives too. We have been called to do the same. To confess the good news! And not just with words; but with our very lives; to be the hands and feet, and yes, the mouth of Christ in the world.

So that’s our challenge as we continue in this year of challenges. To confess in words and deeds that “Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.” (Phil 2:11b). So, you see, you don’t have to be a street preacher to “confess” your faith. But you do have to live like you believe and believe like you live. Or another way to put it; your life may just point someone else to the source of true life. Now that’s a confession!

Annual Congregational Assembly Meeting

Please plan to attend our meeting on Sunday, October 19th. We'll be voting on the budget and council positions. Following the meeting, everyone is invited to stay and enjoy a potluck meal together.

Vocation of Marriage Sunday

As part of our Reformation Sunday Celebration, we will be observing the 500th Anniversary of Martin and Katharina Luther's Marriage.

On June 13, 1525, Martin Luther married Katharina von Bora, establishing a profound example of Christian marriage as a sacred vocation. Their partnership embodied mutual respect, faithful companionship, hospitality, and spiritual ministry. Luther emphasized marriage as a reflection of Christ's relationship with His Church, calling couples to mutual love and support, grounded in God's sustaining grace.

The service will feature Scripture readings, prayers, liturgical elements, and an opportunity for couples to affirm their marriage vows. Our celebration will emphasize the spiritual significance of marriage, support for families, and pastoral care for those experiencing marital strain or separation.

Come join us as we strive to strengthen the vocation of marriage and support families in their journey of discipleship and honoring marriage as a spiritual vocation shaped by grace, while prayerfully supporting those experiencing separation or divorce.

Rebecca Circle met on Monday, September 15th with eight ladies present. Cindy Smith led our Bible Study. We finished our study of God's Fearless Leaders with Moses and Aaron working together, each using their own talents, to stand up to Pharaoh and his army and guide the Israelites to the Promised Land. After a short business meeting we enjoyed cake and wafer cookies decorated to look like pencils as our fall season begins. RoAnn Button and Ruth Lanterman were our hostesses.

The Friendship Circle met September 17th with eight ladies present. Judi Brack Johnson opened the meeting with a prayer and a few wake-up exercises. The items from TLF Council were discussed and Jeannie Girton gave the lesson on Community & Compassion. Jeannie was also the hostess for the meeting. The next meeting will be October 15th in the church library. Jana Reed will be hostess and Krista Smith will present the lesson. All Trinity ladies and their friends are welcome to attend the Circle meetings which are held in the church library at 9:30 AM on the third Wednesday of the month.

Mission Team Update

The Mission Team met in September to allocate the 3rd quarter mission funds. Each year, we welcome and encourage members of the congregation to share new ideas on how these funds might be used to support God's work locally and beyond.

If you have suggestions or questions, please reach out to Rachel Kitch, Shelia Fleske, Ruth Lanterman, or Jil Johnson.

Below is a breakdown of how the 3rd quarter funds are being distributed:

Great Bend Zoo $ 500.00 (this was a matching fund for what the children raised during vbs)

Emergency Aide $1000.00, Oaks Indian Mission $1500.00, Live Like Jesus Today $700.00

Awakening Live to World Mission $1000.00.

At Trinity, we are blessed to support a variety of missions throughout the year. During this Mission Month, we'll be highlighting some of those efforts, but we also want to hear from you!

If there are organizations or programs God has placed on your heart, we invite you to share them with us. The Mission Team is always praying and looking for new ways we can extend support and make a difference together.

Please feel free to visit with any of our Mission Team members with your ideas: Rachel Kitch, Shelia Felske, Jil Johnson, Ruth Lanterman

It's October and the leaves are beginning to fall. It's time to pull out your cozy sweaters, sip on a pumpkin spice latte, and watch as the trees turn those perfect shades of gold and red.

But beyond the crunchy leaves and pumpkin patches, fall has a way of slowing us down and inviting us to reflect. It feels like God's gentle nudge to pause, breathe, and rest in His presence.

Whether you're out on a brisk walk, curled up with a good book, or simply admiring the beauty of the changing season, may this fall be a time of reflection and anticipation for the new things God is preparing in your life.

KICKS is back in full swing, and the kids are excited to keep growing in their faith! This year, we are building on the 7 C's of History from our VBS theme. This gives us the opportunity to dig deeper into what we learned, while also enjoying some of the same music and themes we loved during VBS.
